Greetings

Hi Classmates:

WE FINALLY MADE IT!

Fifty years ago we marched up Pauline Street and down to Miller Field for that eventful evening of our Graduation. Even though the fog rolled in and the chilly breeze forced our parents, relatives and friends to leave the stands, the die was cast. We would go our separate ways — some of us never to meet again.

But here we are. Happy to be together once more. True, we have all changed a little — compared to our year-book pictures. I guess time takes care of that — maybe a little bit more than we like.

We send best wishes for health and happiness to those who could not come and we remember fondly those who are no longer among us.

The Committee

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

July 15, 1988

To the Class of 1938, Winthrop High School:

On the occasion of your 50th reunion, I am pleased to extend my warm greetings.

I know that this occasion brings fond memories and renewed friendships. Coming together in this way, you honor your community, your school and your fellow graduates. You also reaffirm the American tradition of fellowship and goodwill.

Nancy joins me in offering our best wishes for a happy celebration. God bless you.

Ronald Reagan

Fond Memories of Yester-year (1937-1938)

Of course, the most important day of that school year was June 15th, the day we were graduated from Winthrop High!!!

Do you remember some of the songs that we were listening to? How about: A-Tisket A-Tasket . . . Heigh-ho . . . I Get Along Without You Very Well . . . Love Is Here To Stay . . . One O'Clock Jump . . . Two Sleepy People . . . You Must Have Been A Beautiful Baby.

The President was Franklin D. Roosevelt and his Vice-President was John N. Garner.

Do you remember the top movie of 1938? It was "You Can't Take It With You". The two stars of that year were Spencer Tracy and Bette Davis.

Milk was $.25 a half gallon. Five lbs. of flour was a mere $.20 cents. How about bacon at $.37 a pound? Eggs $.36 a dozen.

Some front page stories: The March of Dimes fight against polio started January 3rd . . . The radio show "Information Please" first aired on June 28th . . . Adolph Hitler's Nazi hordes seized control of Austria . . . Orsen Wells scared half the nation with his version of "War of the Worlds" . . . Douglas G. Corrigan earned his less-than-flattering sobriquet ("Wrong Way") by flying from New York to Ireland instead of to California . . .

1938 was the year that saw the births of a couple of well known personalities of today. How about Don Meredith — Sports caster (4/10) . . . Glen Campbell — Singer (4/22) . . . Natalie Wood — Actress (7/20) . . . Elliott Gould — Actor (8/29) . . .

On the Sport Pages were stories such as these . . . 42nd Boston Marathon was won by Leslie Pawson (2:35:34.8) . . . a 2nd no-hitter in a row was pitched by Johnny Vander Meer in NY (6/15) . . . Pitcher Dizzy Dean was traded by St. Louis to the Chicago Cubs (4/15) . . . The NFL Champ was the New York Giants . . .

And to finish up with two real "biggies" . . . The first nylon bristle toothbrushes were manufactured in February of 1938 . . . and on June 15, 1752, Benjamin Franklin was struck by lightning while flying his kite!!!!

HEAD OF THE MANUAL TRAINING DEPARTMENT
OF THE WINTHROP SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL
FROM 1910 TO 1938

A GREAT TEACHER AND
A LOYAL FRIEND

TO THE CLASS OF 1938

LIFE is often called a "Broad Highway." You have reached an important milestone in that highway. You are happy in your achievement. We, who have assisted you, your principal and teachers, share in your happiness. We hope that you are ready and eager to continue with determination to achieve success, to reach other milestones on your journey along the "Broad Highway" which will, in turn, bring you joy and pleasure akin to what you feel today.

We rejoice in your happiness, and we fervently hope that in the busy future you will remember, with the fondest of recollections, your high-school days, your teachers, and your principal.

Sincerely yours,

ARTHUR E. BOUDREAU, Principal

CLASS HISTORY

It seems only yesterday:

That dear old Winthrop High was celebrating the birth of the class of '38.

The healthy infant began the year enthusiastically by electing Edward VanDalinda president. He made a great success of the sophomore social with the able assistance of the social committee.

Julia Ashley started educating the baby. In fact she did so well, that she won the 1936 Herald Spelling Bee for him.

He proved himself an outstanding little boy by gaining the friendship of Louis Abrams, who was the only boy in about ten years to conquer the mighty first team in football, basketball, and baseball; and Edwin Macfarland, who was just starting his brilliant career in track by breaking four records.

It seems only yesterday:

That the class of '38 was officially christened Junior.

The youth displayed exceptional talents for his age. He showed his wise judgment by re-electing Edward VanDalinda as president and choosing a social committee that produced a social which will never be forgotten.

He noted that all-scholastic Louis Abrams was outdoing himself in football and, because of this, awarded him the annual football cup. In fact most of the boys earned good positions on the teams. Then there was Edwin Macfarland, who became captain of the track team and broke more records. The girls were well placed in hockey and tennis—with Mary Haley and Anna Jorgenson, outstanding girl athletes, competing with the seniors. The fact is that all the girls participating in sports gave the seniors something to worry about.

Junior at the end of the year took over the ECHO under the able guidance of editor Ruth Hodgkins.

A trifle worn out from his strenuous term, the young man eagerly looked forward to the summer vacation and his senior year.

It seems only yesterday:

That our young man had grown to be a full-fledged senior. With this in mind and having ideas of his own, he thought it only fitting to have capable Edward VanDalinda elected class president for the third consecutive year. To assist him, Edwin Macfarland was elected vice-president, along with Alice Winter as secretary and William Chardon as marshal.

Mr. Senior then went to the rally previous to the annual Revere-Winthrop tilt. Captain Louis Abrams presided over the meeting, introducing such notables as Mr. McCarthy of M. I. T.; Mr. Lane, chairman of the school committee; and Swede Nelson, who was a treat to the entire student body. At this affair Mr. Alexander presented his annual football trophies to those two outstanding boys on the team, Edwin Macfarland and Edward VanDalinda.

On Thanksgiving, much to Mr. Senior's joy, Winthrop was victorious (6-0), in a thrilling last minute finish. Because of the happy event, the social committee (Lucille Terry, Helen Boland, Thelma Belli, John Williams, William Natale, and Hubert Evans), were so enthused that they had a senior football social at which the players on the team were awarded their sweaters.

Our hero's next big venture was the senior play. With such talent as Olga Goodfriend, William Natale, Lucille Terry, and Stanley Melillo, it could not have been anything but a success. As Mr. Boudreau said after the performance, "I guess the class of '38 will eat lobsters instead of beans at his banquet."

The basketball season opened with versatile Louis Abrams as captain—with a promising team. Again the track captain was Edwin Macfarland, who brought more glory and triumphs to Winthrop High School. The girls' intra-mural basketball championship was won by the stars of Room 15.

Then came the operetta and the stretching of vocal chords. The enthusiastic response to the "Rose of the Danube" was a well-earned reward to the cast and chorus, after long hours of strenuous work. Who will ever forget the nightingale of the class of '38, Isabella Dodge, as Rose and John Williams as her handsome hero, Darrell Davis?

Graduation time was approaching. The members of the dress committee (Bernice Hobden, Mary Kiley, Betty Mulcahy, Alden Avery, Fred

"DID MOST for SCHOOL" "BEST LOOKING" "BEST STUDENTS" "BEST ATHLETES"

"MOST MUSICAL" "BIGGEST BLUFFS" "BIGGEST FLIRTS" "BEST ACTORS"

"BIGGEST DRAG" "WITTIEST" "BEST DRESSED" "BEST PERSONALITIES"

Card, and Clifford Feinberg), chose for the official dress for both Class Day and Graduation white suits to be worn by the students. Mary Haley, Ruth Hodgkins, Marjorie Kilgore, Richard Belcher, Russell Bergman, and Richard Farrand—the Class Day Committee—decided that a minstrel show would be appropriate.

Then came the biggest news of all. Mr. Senior found out he would be graduated at Miller Field! He would be out in the open with his friends watching him from the bleachers.

And so we leave the class of '38, a grown person, looking forward to the unknown world beyond. He has attained his goal and he thanks his teachers and his principal, Mr. Boudreau, for their earnest efforts in helping him to achieve it.

CLASS PROPHECY

MAY 1950

Louise Bowman is patiently waiting for the Silver Streak to dock, as Lucille Terry is just arriving from a trip around the world, and Louise seems very anxious to see her. At last here comes Lucille down the gangplank.

Lucille: Louise, I am so glad to see you, and I have so much to tell you! Oh! What a marvelous trip I have had!

Louise: Hurry, Lou, I am just bubbling over with news, too. I have my chauffeur, Bill Walpole, waiting to take us to Hotel Walking Dogs, where Harold Taintor is doorman. Now tell me what is new?

Lucille: Aren't they both from our class?

Louise: Yes, I have seen more of our classmates on my trip through the U. S., and in and around the city.

Lucille: What a coincidence; it seems as though I have seen just heaps of them, too. At the Olympics in Switzerland, I saw Frances and Louis Abrams with their managers Virginia Carter and Louis MacCartney. I found Edwin Macfarland, a star in track, and Warren Pepper, high jump star, both doing their bit for the U. S.

Louise: Really? You know Ruth Gillespie is Golf Champion and Gertrude Snyder tennis Champion of the U. S. Fred Devereux is quite a golfer out in Chicago and Dorothy Dobson is a famous pitcher on the N. Y. Giants. Ruth Cronan and Gertrude Score are the switchboard operators here in the hotel, which is owned by Ralph Tucker. Beatrice Goodearl happens to be a cigarette girl; John Johnston, a waiter; Forrest Wilder, head bell-hop; Rita Tanger, cashier in the hotel drugstore. Dick Belcher owns the drugstore and Arthur Davis is his clerk. And remember Watson Lindsey? Well, he is the hotel detective.

Lucille: Oh, we'll have to see them all. Guess who I saw on board the boat? Julia Ashley and Evelyn Dolloff, both teachers; Francis Cronin, an oil and coal magnate; and above all things, Martin Clougherty, Garth Crosby, and Robert Melanson, wealthy playboys. The captain of the boat was none other than James Critch, and his first three mates were Richard Griffin, first mate; Richard Hoffmann, second; and Russell Bergman, third. Catherine Bridgeman was my hairdresser;

Arthur Jurmain, a lecturer; Edith Hartt, a singer with Fred Card's Bubbling Rhythm. Fred had a few of the old classmates in the orchestra: Robert Ellion, Richard Duval, Elliot Atlas, Melvyn Goldberg, Stanley Melillo, and Barbara MacInnes. One rough day when I lost my dinner Irene Flynn and Dorothy Fredericks came to my aid; but my troubles were not due to the cooking of Richard Daley, a splendid chef. Russell Johnson sent my radiogram to you.

Louise: Oh! did he? Here is some more news. Donald Bentley is president of the Red Cross Association here, and Ruth Belsky, Priscilla Bliss, Mary Byrne, Josephine Scandone are his staff of nurses. George Wickson is his undertaker, and Gloria Salerno and Marion Johnston are his special doctors. Anna Creedon married one of his specialists. Remember Louis Cataldo? He owns a dude ranch out in the wilds of Texas, and Anita Mulone and Dorothy Mortimer are his cow-girls helping his business along. Melvyn Goldberg (Big Mel, you remember) owns a horse ranch near by and Sidney Epstein and Helen Colarusso own chicken farms.

Lucille: I met ever so many of our friends in the far off corners of the earth. In China, I met John Frazer and John Roan as missionaries.

Louise: That reminds me,—Monday as I was walking down the street I heard a terrible screech of brakes. Then I saw Edwin Ball, an ambulance driver, rush to the scene, where he picked up Gladys Cosgrove's husband. They took him to Thomas Queenan's All-Banged-Up-Hospital, where Joyce Hayes is supervisor. The poor man died and they intend to bury him in one of Theresa Phelan's caskets and most of the flowers will be sent from Cecile Langer's Florist Shoppe.

Lucille: How tragic! While I was in Siberia, I came across Alan Levy trapping fox without much success.

Louise: You remember Edward VanDalinda, our Senior Class President. He is in Hollywood starring in "Pinch Me Nose," a musical comedy, with Rita Murtha, Bill Natale, and Olga Goodfriend. Bob Waldo is their director, and he is doing a great job for the P. U. Studios.

Lucille: Perhaps you have heard of "Take Away Your Money Cafe," which is owned by Sebastian Biancardi. His help includes the famous Housman twins, Edward and Herbert, Claire Holmes and Stanley Cootey a grand dancing pair, and not forgetting the Great Jinxo, Leon Rubin.

Louise: I had a trip through the States and what a perfect time I had! I went to Chicago by plane of which Eugene Siegel was the pilot and Anita Shuman was his co-pilot. Mary Repucci and Verna Goranson were the gracious hostesses. I met Kenneth Stewart as I boarded the plane and he went as far as Philadelphia, where he jumped out in a parachute just to get the thrill. Cora Titus happened to be on her honeymoon, so she and her husband and I watched Kennie jump. It's funny I haven't seen him since.

Lucille: Talking about people being up in the air, while I was in Italy I saw Harold French swinging on a building, painting a sign for Christos Bellas's Wine Company. When we inspected the building Stanley Currie was our guide.

Louise: I can't imagine Harold swinging on a building. Goodness, what is this world coming to? But listen to this—after I got off the plane in Chicago, there was Herbert Drew, star reporter for the "Bug's Bugal," looking for Bernice Hobden, Jeanne Kershaw, and Frances Parker, who were to travel with Albert Welling, a side-show barker, for publicity.

Lucille: I'd like to see Al again. As we were traveling in the beautiful Riviera, I stumbled upon Thelma Belli painting to her heart's content. When we walked along for an hour or so I called a taxi, and much to my surprise Paul Fontaine drove up and greeted me with "Oui, Oui, Mademoiselle." Mary Harkins is a hostess in his Taxi Hall in Gay Paris, and Richard Hayman was playing his accordion on the corner of the Rue de la Smoothe and the Boulevard with a cup in his hand. Things seemed rather bad for him, until I learned that he was just doing this on a dare.

Louise: Business isn't so bad over here. There are quite a few of our classmates set up in business in Chicago. William Donovan is an engineer; David Donovan, contract engineer; Patricia Benson owns the "Rub Out The Spots Cleansers Company"; Lewis Brown peddles automobiles for Helen Dodge's Company; Michael Caprarella has a night club; and Leo Cronin is head of the I. O. U. Union. Polly Crooks owns the "Pay While You Wear Shop."

Lucille: In Vienna I met part of the "Four Hundred" of our class, that is, the debutantes, Eleanor Freeman and Claire Magee. Helen Tauchen was traveling with her husband, Prince Nertso. Dorothy McElroy and Lillian McNeil have opened up a tapestry shop in one of the ancient streets there in Vienna.

Louise: How nice. I bet it's very quaint. After I left Chicago, I went directly to Santa Monica, California, to visit Edward Cash. He is the wealthiest millionaire out in those parts. He has quite a few working for him; John Moran is his caretaker; Dorothy Morey, housekeeper; Thelma Harold, secretary; John Kelly, butler; Charles Weisburg, chauffeur; George Gorberg, his broker; and Robert Foster, his lawyer. We had a perfectly marvelous time talking over old times.

Lucille: As I remember, in Paris I met George McQuillen in his Beauty Shoppe, and he sticks right with his schoolmates by employing Verna Monaghan and Ethel Moore as his manicurists and also Grace Downie and Bernice Coppelman as his hair stylists.

Louise: I had one of the biggest thrills of my life the other day. I met Helen Boland, who is a well-known biologist, and she went to the opera with me. Isabelle Dodge and John Williams had the leads and Gertrude Barry and Stanley Casdan were singing with them. When it was all over, we went slumming and we landed up in Edward Rose's "Weenie Wagon," where we met Marguerite Blanchard. She invited us out to her home to see her year-old triplets.

Lucille: I bet they're darling. I met Florence Block over in Spain where she is traveling with her twins. I also bumped into Margaret Donovan with her "hubby."

Louise: Speaking of "hubbies," I met Betty Searle out in California. She married a West Point Cadet, and Jeanette Williams married a Norwich University graduate. Evelyn Rowe is a governess for Jeanette's little boy; Harold Slocomb and Paul Silvey are her bodyguards. I think Betty said Mary Kiley was her child's governess. They both send their children to Ferne Martin's "Learn Everything and Know Nothing" School.

Lucille: Alice Lloyd and Hermine Crane own a girls' camp, don't they? I heard Phyllis Chaet was one of the head instructors and Virginia Carey, Anna Jorgenson, Margaret Kelly and Alice Winter help out. Margaret McCarthy and Mary Young are the private secretaries.

Louise: It must be a huge place, but I bet it's grand. Look who is coming over here, Eugene Roitman. He is governor of New Hampshire, you know; I guess he is on his vacation.

Eugene: Hello, girls, how are you?

Lucille: I'm just perfect. It is so good to see you.

Louise: We're talking about our high school days. Won't you join us?

Eugene: I'd be delighted to. First of all have you heard that John Murphy was just appointed Ambassador to England? He left for the old country last night.

Lucille: I just got back from there and was wondering who would be appointed for that high office. Has anyone seen Joe Nolan?

Louise: Why yes, he is the editor of the New York Star, the paper that competes with Ruth Hodgkins' paper "The Highlights." Evelyn Holland is her business manager.

Eugene: Have you heard any of our radio artists? Mildred Firth is the singing lady over station QUAK kiddies' hour, Bernice and Ruth Hill are blue singers on the same station, and Maura Foley is known on the same station as Recipe Sue advertising Richard Avery's "Slap It Together Cake Flour." Mathew Indech is America's problem solver on station NUTS.

Louise: I often hear the recordings from that station and have heard several of Bernard McElligott's. On that same station, Cupid's Mate (alias Grace Reed) gives advice to the lovelorn. Bernard Schresky is a ventriloquist on Elaine Thompson's Droopy Hour on the radio.

Lucille: I'll have to catch up on all of these programs. On the foreign network you often hear Larry Young, a very famous concert master, and also Florence Tishler, a well-known pianist.

Eugene: The women certainly have the world in their clutches these days; Elizabeth Mulcahy is Lady Warden of Deer Island: she is certainly a chip off the old block. Two of her guards are Audrey Rohrman and Rhoda Rogolsky.

Louise: How interesting. I had the most fun the other day! Georgette Whitehead, who was chosen "Miss Massachusetts," took me to Benjamin Sternsher's "Haw, Haw! Circus," where Sidney Williams bounced into us as an indiarubber man, Dorothy Oesterle was a tight rope dancer, John Plakias, better known as "Slinko" the Great Magician, and Madame Potter (Ernestine) read my palm. Gertrude Barker sold tickets for the Merry-go-round.

Lucille: That reminds me! When I was traveling through the gloomiest parts of Africa, I heard a blood-curdling cry and when I looked up there was William Chardon, swinging from limb to limb, posing as Tarzan, for a movie serial. Mary Haley was co-starring. They had hired (Alyce) Cohen, (Florence) Cohen, (Jacob) Cohen and (William) Kelly, Inc. for their lawyers in case of a slight upset. Alden Avery and Robert Calder were the comic men for the serial.

Eugene: My! Oh! My! how time flies,—I must be going for I have an appointment at John Curran's Gipp'em All Race Track. It happens that Dorothy Reardon is a wealthy horse financier there, and Patsy De Gregorio, Arthur Furst, and Joseph Gallagher are head stable boys. Oh! dear, I must be going; Meadows (John Harrington) will be waiting for me. Toodle-oo, girls.

Louise: It was nice seeing him again, wasn't it? Did you know his secretary was Teresa Havey? They get along marvelously.

Lucille: How romantic! How would you like to go to Leon Freeman's Dog Track tomorrow night? As I was coming off the boat, I met Richard Freundlich, an owner of dogs, and he gave me two passes. I was told that Lois Decker is hostess at Robert Cates' Skating Rink near there. We could stop in and see them all.

Louise: That would be different anyway. Let's. Maybe we can stop in to see the "Up to the Minute" style show too. It is sponsored by John Blocksidge and his models are Geraldine Brown, Louise Brown, Grace Hinckley, Florence Hodges, and Patricia Vera. The salesgirls are very nice too. Some of them are Dorothy Cioffi, Ann Brady, Tillie Blonder, Pauline Flaxman, Helen Grey, Barbara Murphy, and Claire Grady.

Lucille: We will have to see that show, I just love new styles. Have you read the book "Be Smart and Go To The Top." It's co-authoresses are Virginia Grimes and Florence Friedman. I think it is a masterpiece.

Louise: I haven't read it, but it sounds very good. Do you remember Esther Levine? Well, she, Pearl Frumson, Frieda Blank, and Bella Epstein have opened up a research laboratory. They seem to be very successful.

Lucille: I am glad of that. Did I tell you that I met Elta Emmerich residing in Germany? She is quite interested in the debates there, which are carried on by Elaine Bayer, Naomi Skillings, Milton Kaplow, Richard Gildea, and Richard Lindsey. I believe the question is—Resolved, Is It Wiser To Be Married or Stay Single?

Louise: That sounds like an interesting question. I read in the Star the other day that Henry Perry, a critic of these parts, was quite interested in it, also.

Lucille: How is John O'Brien these days?

Louise: He owns "The Bite and Bark Pet Shop" up on Dog Road in New Hampshire, and Hyman Osvar has opened up "The Tail Wag" shop almost across the street. Francis Lorange and Donald MacPherson are their business managers.

Lucille: Bertram Jacobs owns a "Rubber Wood" lumber camp up in those parts somewhere. Jeanette Visconte runs a coffee wagon near there so the truck drivers can drop in now and then. Doesn't Marjorie Kilgore run the Libraries up in New Hampshire?

Louise: I believe she does. Edward Very owns the Ship Em All Express Co. which runs from Maine to Connecticut. His drivers include John O'Connor, Leonard Somers, Benjamin Swartz, Hubert Evans and Charles Shannon.

Lucille: Didn't I see Edward Conway's cartoons in Alfred Wilkins' "Buzz, Buzz" cartoon magazine?

Louise: You probably did. Richard Farrand has his cartoons in that magazine, also. Brooks Kendall is known for his excellent radio shop, and Frank Ratto aids him in repair work.

Lucille: Did you see Marion Stofflet's and Charlotte Sparer's names in the society page last night? They are both traveling abroad preparing to enter a Swimming Meet in Germany.

Louise: I'd like to see them. They'll have a grand time. Rose Facella and Helen Warren own the cutest card shop called "Just Around the Corner."

Lucille: Louise! look at that plane. It is so near the ground. I wonder who dares to fly so low,—and look at the girl swinging on the ladder hanging from the plane.

Louise: I know who it is,—it's Clifford Feinberg and Grace Scarpulla. They are always doing crazy stunts in the air to advertise Mildred McCarthy's "Chew Chew" Meat Market.

Lucille: When I was in England I saw something very similar. It was Mildred Jacobs and Edward Nowak sitting on top of a flagpole advertising Robert Perkins's "Ye Olde Plumber Shoppe."

Louise: Another famous advertising trick is Thomas Quinn's strong man act to advertise Eleanor Hafford's "It Knocks You Down But Does It Pick You Up" medicine.

Lucille: What is all the commotion? Let's take a peek. It's a marathon race. Heavens! there is George Rogers, Douglas Robinson and Raymond Smith all at the head. Who is that man on the bicycle?

Louise: That's Henry Remby. He is following George Rogers so he can pour water on him as soon as he comes to the finish line.

Lucille: I never heard of that.

Louise: Oh! that's an old trick. George Rogers has so much fan mail that it takes Alice Bumps and Florence Stone, his secretaries, to receive it all. It's getting late, I'm afraid I'll have to leave. I have an appointment with Jerry Price, my dentist—and by the way Doris Swenson is his nurse, and Doris Smith and Maura Foley his secretaries. I'll see you tomorrow night, Lou.

Lucille: That will be fine, Louise. Thanks for meeting me. See you later.

SENIOR PLAY

In December, the Senior Play, "Captain Applejack" was presented before a large and appreciative audience. Miss Spence must be congratulated on her excellent direction of the play.

The performance was an Arabian Night's adventure in three acts, centered around the life of Ambrose Applejohn, a young bachelor who yearned for romance and adventure. He found both,—adventure when his house was invaded by a beautiful French adventuress, her scheming husband, his colleague, and two other deceitful thieves; and when a treasure which he had no idea existed was exposed. Romance entered, when he realized his love for his charming ward, Miss Poppy Faire. The play had a happy ending, for he outwitted the crooks, retained the treasure, and gained the love of his little ward.

THE OPERETTA

"Rose of the Danube," the operetta given by the class of 1938, was an overwhelming success on March 31 and April 1 in Osborne Hall. Much time, patience, and hard work was spent by Mr. Dockham, Miss Key, and Miss Spence, in perfecting the singing, dancing, and acting of the principals and chorus, who were beautifully set off against a background prepared under the direction of Miss Knight.

John Williams, tenor, and Isabella Dodge, soprano, were excellent leads and provided the proper romantic interests—he as Darrell Davis, a cameraman from Hollywood, and she as Rose, a princess of Eurolania. This little kingdom is ruled over by King Montmorency (Lawrence Young) and Queen Florinda (Olga Goodfriend). The three conspirators, Count Sergius von Popova, Demetrius Doodledorf, and Trombonius Tootletop (Fred Card, John Roan and Eugene Roitman) try to overthrow the monarchy. They are given an opportunity to do so in the mock revolution staged by Percival McPipp (Albert Welling) with the assistance of Mrs. McPipp (Eleanor Slocum) and their daughter Pamela, played by Julia Ashley. The cast of this stupendous production of McPipp's included Prime Minister Galooski and Lady Belladonna (Edwin Macfarland and Rita Murtha), Rose, Princess Daisy and Prince Karl (played by Gertrude Barry and Stanley Casdan).

The plot for revolution is foiled by Karl and Darrell. For his part in the affair, Darrell is given the Rose of the Danube and the whole affair ends happily for all.

The hard work of the cast, chorus, and directors made "Rose of the Danube" one of the best operettas this school has ever seen.

FOOTBALL TEAM

Winthrop turned in a very creditable football record in spite of major handicaps in man-power. Two veterans were declared ineligible because of the age limit and two more were crippled by injuries.

The first game of the season was a scoreless tie with Brookline. The following Saturday Winthrop triumphed over Woburn 6-0. The score came on a wide left end sweep with Edward Van Dalinda carrying the ball. The ensuing game with Swampscott promised to be a thriller, and it was. Swampscott boasted a plentitude of stars, foremost of whom was Dan Scioletti. But Captain Abrams formed the nucleus of a strong defense which successfully bottled up the speed in the Swampscott backfield, and VanDalinda obliged with another touchdown to carry the day. The struggle with Watertown ended in another scoreless tie.

However, when successive defeats had been suffered from Mystic Valley league-champions, Melrose, Chelsea, and Gloucester, Winthrop's morale lowered and prospects for the Thanksgiving Day tussle with Revere looked gloomy.

But the football squad was somehow rejuvenated on November 25. The team showed great power of attack and great strength of defense in the 6-0 victory over our rival. The score came in the closing moments of the game on a forty-four yard pass from Reed to Evans.

If future athletic teams of our high school can show the brand of play shown on last Thanksgiving Day—and they can—championships galore are ours.

TRACK

The Winthrop High School Track Team closed a fairly good indoor season this year. Led by the record-breaking captain, Edwin Macfarland, and other individual stars, the team pressed their opponents very closely, although they never broke into the winning class. Because of an injury, Macfarland was not able to compete in all of the big indoor meets. In the State Meet, Winthrop scored four points. Many school records were broken this year. They are as follows:

1000 yd. run in 2m. 32.2/5s.—Watson Lindsey.
 600 yd. run in 1m. 20.1s.—George Hoar.
 High jump 6 ft. 3/8 in.—Warren Pepper.
 Broad jump 9 ft. 6.15/16 in.—Frank Hussey.
 40 yd. low hurdles in 5.1/s.—Edwin Macfarland.
 45 yd. low hurdles in 5.3/5s.—Edwin Macfarland.
 50 yd. low hurdles in 6.2/5s.—Edwin Macfarland.
 1 lap relay (148 yds. per man) 1m. 7s.—1, Edwin Macfarland; 2, George McQuillen; 3, Clayton Granger; 4, Edward VanDalinda.

SCIENCE CLUB

President Robert Foster
 Vice President Julia Ashley
 Secretary Marjorie Kilgore
 Treasurer Mr. Harold J. Morse

The Science Club, under the capable direction of Mr. Morse, treasurer and faculty advisor, has enjoyed a year full of interesting and varied meetings. The club consisted of thirty-five Seniors who had previously taken a course in either Chemistry or Physics.

Each meeting was conducted by different groups who performed several experiments. Among those participating in these were Robert Foster, David Donovan, Richard Hoffmann, Marjorie Kilgore, Esther Levine, Alan Levy, and Leon Rubin.

The outstanding meeting of the year was held when the General Motors Corporation presented Previews of Progress, a dramatic presentation of the modern wonders of Science, under the direction of Mr. Ernest L. Foss. Among the spectacular demonstrations were chemiluminescence, the "black" light, man-made lightning, the frying of an egg on a cold stove, and many other phenomena.

We wish Mr. Morse continued success in his work in the Science Club.

FRENCH CLUB

President Julia Ashley
 Vice-President Dorothy Higgins
 Secretary Evelyn Dolloff
 Treasurer John Williams
 Faculty Adviser Miss Beck

Le Cercle Francais has passed another successful year under the able direction of Miss Beck. Many interesting and enjoyable programs have been presented with the fine cooperation of the officers and members.

The meetings were held once a month and were planned by various committees, the German Club joining with the French Club for the annual Christmas Meeting.

The programs consisted of French songs, initiations, playlets, and recitations given by the students. Barbara MacInnes and Fred Card had charge of the music for the French Club; and an interesting feature of the year was the German Band, conducted by Eliot Atlas, which furnished foreign atmosphere to the meetings.

Clever impersonations and imitations of radio stars and programs were presented during the year, and a very successful play entitled "Par Un Jour de Pluie" was given with cast including Virginia Grimes, Mary Kiley, Joseph Nolan, Leonard Somers, and Stanley Melillo.

GERMAN CLUB

The German Club under the direction of Miss Beck had an enjoyable but comparatively inactive year. The club is very grateful to Miss Beck for her assistance, and is also indebted to the members who formed the German Band which played at all our meetings. Next year's club will be composed of practically all juniors, and we wish them a very successful year.

ART CLUB

Groups A and B of the Art Club, in addition to their regular interesting work, have contributed most of the cuts and line drawings for this book and also many for several issues of the bi-monthly ECHO.

NEWSPAPER CLUB

During the year the Newspaper Club met every Monday, the first and second lunch periods, in Room 29 under the direction of Mr. Ralph L. Duplin. The members of the club were Evelyn Dolloff, Ruth Hodgkins, Joseph Nolan, Florence Friedman, Virginia Grimes, Mildred Firth, Philip Campbell, Mary Haley, William Natale, Rita Murtha and Benjamin Swartz. This is the second year that Mr. Ralph Duplin has directed the Newspaper Club. At each meeting he would give out assignments to the members, who would, if necessary, go to various parts of the building for information, and then return to write up their articles and submit them for Mr. Duplin's approval. After being approved by Mr. Boudreau, the articles were sent promptly to "The Sun" and the "Winthrop Review." Joseph Nolan, who wrote up all football games, and Philip Campbell, who wrote about news pertaining to track, were the only members with definite assignments for each week, the others having different assignments weekly. The subjects of the articles included sports, such as football, track, tennis and basketball, special assemblies, class meetings, report cards, Senior Play and Operetta, results of class elections, etc.

Under the capable direction of Mr. Duplin, the Newspaper Club spent a very successful year, covering the school events of 1938.

HISTORY CLUB

The History Club has again been formed this year under the capable direction of Mr. Edward Snow. Its monthly meetings are held every third Wednesday.

Frank Hussey presides over the club, this being his second year as president. The vice-president is Allison Bliss; the secretary, Dawn Hagman; the treasurer, Warren Pepper.

The club members have made a few trips this year, one being to Boston Light. They presented the lighthouse keeper there on his birthday the picture of the first lighthouse keeper of Boston Light.

Around Christmas time the members went out to Boston Light and gave toys to the poor children around the islands.

In April, 31 members went to Lexington on a trip. They stopped at the site of the Battle of Chelsea Creek, the first battle where American cannon were used and also the second great battle of the Revolution. Other stops were made at Breed's Hill and the old State House and the spot of the Boston Massacre.

During the year the club was shown many interesting slides of old ships, wrecks, Boston Lighthouse, etc. Mr. Snow related facts about Winthrop—its Indian skeletons, railroads, storms, etc.

This friendly, fascinating and educational club is in its second year.

LATIN CLUB

The Latin Club, under the direction of Miss Merrill, has met in two sections, one composed of members from the Latin III class and the other from the Latin II classes. Meetings have been held monthly.

The officers of the Latin III section were:

President Joseph Spano
 Vice-President Henry O'Connell
 Secretary Dorothy Higgins
 Program Chairman Mary McMahon

The meetings have been planned and put on by members, who have entertained the club with plays, songs and games. The object of the club has been to acquaint its members with Rome and the customs of its people in olden times.

The officers of Latin II section:

President Leon Kind
 Vice-President Charles Gunderson
 Secretary Thelma Levy

The Juniors have held election day,
And all the votes are counted.
We've checked, rechecked, and checked again,
And to this they have amounted—

"Dodo" Higgins and "Abe" Goldberg
Lead the junior student sharks,
But "Chickie" Spano and Estelle Freedland rate
When it comes to getting marks.

"Eddie" Harrigan is best looking,
Helene Magee is a beauty, too;
But "Jin" O'Brien and "Fuzzie" Hussey
Needn't feel so very blue.

"Mood" Whitehead and Dawn Hagman
Have personality!
"Bud" Sennett and "Ed" Grady
Shine with geniality!

Evelyn Gillette and "Eddie" Harrigan
Have dignity galore
But Alice Walker and "Kev" Mulcahy
Have just a little more.

Junior Ballot

"Putt" Crombie is king of jokers,
Dawn Hagman rules as queen;
Rose Burke is a funny princess,
Clarence Goodwin—the prince serene.

"Nat" Snyder and "Eddie" Harrigan
Set the style pace for their class,
Though "Gert" Harrington and "Kev" Mulcahy
Were quite hard to surpass.

Laurette's and "Mood's" sweet manners,
"Bud" Sennett's friendly smile,
"Putt" Crombie's pleasing nature
Make a Junior's life worth while.

"Dodo" Higgins is an athlete,
"Georgie" Hoar does rate as well;
But two who beat them in this game
Were Madona and Brownell.

Rose Burke and Paul Doherty
Can "ad lib" to a "T,"
But the biggest junior bluffers
Are Mary Hogan and Conley.

And now it is all over—
Election Day has come and past,
But the preceding lines have let you know
"Who's Who" in the Junior Class.

The future's best-dressed women from our class will most certainly be Norma Gentle and Mary Harrington while Russell West and John MacDonald take the masculine lead for sartorial elegance. Most athletic are Edith Antunes and Jimmie Reid, And of reducing Arline Marsh and Richard McGinn have no need.

Will Alice Lafayette and Richard McGee go on being the best bluffers; or will Ruth Murphy and Daniel Kelleher beat them to it?

Norma Gentle, Russell West seem most dignified in mind,
But Patricia Dimes and William King come not far behind.

The comedians of tomorrow will surely be Alice Lafayette and Sidney Kanegis. Their stand-ins will probably be Priscilla Williams and Daniel Kelleher.

Kathleen Cronin and Harold Barger have the best in brain,
But on them Ruth Saunders, and Russell West nearly gain.

Eleanor Keefe and Marian Duggan have the best of natures, and John MacDonald and James Reid are known for their ability to "take it."

Richard McGinn and Russell West
Are handsomer than all the rest
While Marian Knox and Saunders (Ruth)
Are prettiest girls—to tell the truth!

The sophomore personality girls are Eleanor Keefe and Ruth Murphy. Robert Bowman and John Ryan stand out from all the other boys with their pleasing personalities.
